National Indian Child Care Association Event Sponsorship

The National Indian Child Care Association (NICCA) is an organization working to ensure quality child care for Native American children. The Association will be hosting its bi-annual conference in August of 2011. Early childhood professionals from tribes across the United States will gather to share ideas about early care and education in tribal communities. We invite you to partner with us as we together to provide quality child care services to children in Indian country
