River Spirit Casino Resort | Ballroom 3 & 4 | Tulsa, Oklahoma

Increasing numbers of children and families in our culture are struggling with issues of trauma. The well-being of children across our state and our nation is at risk. The lifelong effects of trauma show up in early childhood programs with both the children and the parents. This workshop will discuss the impact of trauma on healthy growth and development and help teachers and caregivers understand how to create healing environments that can support children and families.
